

Movement of media representatives in the surroundings of Reduta

Accredited and registered journalists are invited to make use of the press centre in Reduta.

The free movement in the surroundings of Reduta will be restricted by barriers (No. 4). The area around Reduta will be protected by security services.

Journalists will access the press centre in Reduta from Palackého Street or from Hviezdoslavovo Square (No. 1). There will be a press centre staff member standing next to the barriers, who will have a list of journalists registered for this particular event. Journalists will subsequently undergo a security check in pavilions located in front of the Reduta building and will then pick up their badges at the badge dispensing point. Journalists must undergo a security check upon each entry to the press centre in Reduta.

All journalists who have been subject to a successful security check and who have picked up their badges will have access to the press centre in Reduta.

SNG vans may access the press centre in Reduta from Vajanského riverbank (No. 6). Security personnel standing next to the barriers will carry out an initial security check. A check of one SNG van will take 15 to 30 minutes. During the check, a SNG van crew will go down Mostová Street to the entrance to the press centre in Reduta from Palackého Street or Hviezdoslavovo Square (No. 1). Crew members will subsequently undergo a security check and pick up their badges.

If a journalist picks up his or her badge on the previous day, he or she will access the press centre in Reduta from Palackého street or from Hviezdoslavovo Square. Subsequently, he or she will undergo a security check in pavilions located in front of the Reduta building.

Journalists registered for a media opportunity doorstep (No. 5) will be accompanied by the press centre staff members. If a journalist returns to the press centre in Reduta individually, he or she will have to undergo a security check. If he or she comes back to the press centre in a group accompanied by the press centre staff members, a security check will not be necessary.

Access badges must be worn visibly at all times.

Please note that the luggage and other objects must not be left unattended in the surroundings of Reduta.
